REMEMBER THE TUSCANIA.
While mourning the loss of those gallant soldiers on the Tuscania, the American people should be profoundly grateful that the loss of life was so comparatively small, yet are stirred with a determination to see that those fallen heroes shall not have died for their country in vain.

This is the first effective blow the Huns have struck against the United States troops enroute to a foreign port. It is also remarkable that hundreds of thousands of our soldiers have been transported across the seas without one single misadventure until the attack on the Tuscania. Canada has transported about 500,000 men and up to this time has not lost a man from a submarine attack. Repeatedly the German pirates have succeeded in sinking unarmed passenger ships, and have gloried in their slaughter of American citizens, with women and children included. But not until the Tuscania was struck, have their blows been felt by our military expeditions. Even in this case much credit must be given the British warships by whom the transports were being convoyed, for saving ninety per cent of those aboard.

We cannot expect, however, to go through this war without losses and disasters. We are fighting a ruthless and brutal foe—the most brutal that civilization ever faced; therefore, we must stand in constant fortitude and go forward with an unflinching will to avenge the humanity which German barbarism has trampled down and to vindicate the cause for which our soldiers and sailors are giving their lives. Let us remember the Tuscania, as we remember the Maine.

THE WAY OF THE HUNS.
One of the characteristically inhuman methods by which the Huns replenish their man-power is illustrated in an Austro-German proclamation issued a few weeks ago in Italy.

"Every citizen," runs the edict, referring to the Italians of the invaded territory, "must obey our labor regulation. All workmen and children over fifteen years of age must work in the fields every day, Sunday included, from four o'clock in the morning until eight o'clock in the evening. Lazy workmen will be accompanied at the work and watched by Germans. After the harvest they will be imprisoned for six months and every third day be given nothing but bread and water. Lazy women will be obliged to work, and after harvest will receive six months' imprisonment. Lazy children will be punished by beating. The Commandant reserves the right to punish lazy workmen with twenty lashes daily."

This, it is true, seems merely a minor bit of task-mastership as compared with the common run of German brutalities. It is notable, however, as an example of the way Prussianism is using enemy civilian populations for military ends, virtually enslaving them and forcing them to turn their hands against their own countries. Authentic figures are presented by the Wall Street Journal showing that, exclusive of Armenians and Syrians, upwards of forty-three million people have thus been put in bondage and lashed on to labor beyond human endurance. In numerous instances, moreover, the men of conquered territories are forced into the German ranks and used for what the Hohenzollerns call "cannon fodder."

POORE.
News has been received by friends and relatives in this county of the sad death last Monday, at Wilmore, Ky., of the young wife of Walker Poore. Mr Poore with his mother and brothers formerly lived in this county, but moved to a farm in Jessamine county, near Wilmore, four years ago. Mrs Poore before her marriage was Miss Louise Lowry daughter of Mr James Lowry of the Wilmore vicinity. Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved young husband and the little girl babe of three weeks, who will never know the love of its fond lovely mother.

DEMONSTRATION
In "War Bread" Making, Tomorrow.
Next Friday, tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the store of Haselden Bros.; Miss Molly Worthington, County Emergency Agent, will demonstrate to the public, the art in making "War Bread" constituting the use of wheat substitutes. On account of the many wheatless days during the week, the Food Administration advises the uses of substitutes in order to conserve wheat.

At the same place at 2:30 Saturday afternoon there will be a similar demonstration for the benefit of those living in the country. Miss Worthington has been demonstrating the making of this bread since last November and hopes to have the co-operation of all the housekeepers of Garrard county in this patriotic movement, which means so much toward winning the war. Haselden Brothers have kindly loaned Miss Worthington the use of their famous Florence Automatic range for these demonstrations. The public is urged to attend these meetings.

The district meeting of the I. O. O. F. Grand Lodge of Kentucky will meet in Lancaster on Wednesday, March 27th, the guest of Franklin Lodge No. 7, the local lodge. This the Eighth district is composed of fifteen counties and embraces thirty-five lodges, and from 150 to 200 representatives are expected to be present. Elliott, of Lexington, and probably other notables of the order will doubtless accompany them.

Franklin Lodge has already appointed committees on arrangements, etc., and they are making preparations to entertain their guests in the royal manner for which this lodge is noted. Enthusiastic meetings are being held each Friday night the time being changed from Monday night in order to observe "heathless Mondays" and the members are showing renewed interest in the order because of the coming meeting. Full details of the gathering are not available as yet, but there will doubtless, be an interesting program arranged for the entertainment of the distinguished guests while they are with us.

LONG LIFE COMES TO PEACEFUL END.

When death ended the long and useful life of Mr. James Roe Cox last Friday morning, Garrard county lost one of her oldest and most revered citizens. He passed away quietly while seated in his chair, in the presence of his devoted wife and some of his near and dear relatives.

Although he lived through 89 years and up until a few months ago, was enjoying his usual good health, but to be closer to his children he and his wife moved from their country home and had taken rooms at the home of Miss Fannie Bishop, where he died.

JAMES ROE COX.

Mr Cox was born in Garrard county, December 24th, 1829 and had lived until his next birthday he would have been 89 years old.

Early in his young life he became a member of the Christian church and carried out his devotion to that church through his entire life. On November 23rd, 1859 he was married to Miss Eliza Sutton, who now survives him and is 79 years old.

Remarkable to relate he is also survived by 11 children and his is the first death in the family. Those children are: Pendleton Cox, Henry Cox, Mrs. John Bland, Mrs. William Sutton, Robert L. Cox, Mrs. Frank Todd, James Todd, James Cox, Miss Cynthia Cox, Jasper Cox, Mrs. John Peace and Owsley Cox.

Beside the children, he is survived by 35 grand-children and 30 great-grand-children. Until the death of Mr. Cox, including the sons-in-law and daughters-in-law there were exactly 100 in this happy family and every year on Christmas day they met for a family re-union and to celebrate the birthday of their aged father which gave him so much pleasure and happiness.

He was a good man, a loving husband, a kind and noble father. He loved his children, grand-children and great-grand-children and worked and thought of them, and their interests. He was a man of rigid honesty and lived a most exemplary life. A friend to every soul, he was ever-ready to serve his fellow man in whatever he could. His life was filled with deeds of kindness and gentleness and will be greatly missed from the community in which he has lived so long.

Funeral services were conducted at the grave last Saturday afternoon at three o'clock, by his pastor, Rev. J. R. Moorman after which interment took place in the Lancaster cemetery.

BOIAN.

On February 8, the death angel threw his shadowy wings over the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Boian, and their little daughter, Willie Mae, fell asleep in Jesus.

Though she had been in declining health for a long time, yet her death came as a great shock to the family, she having seemed unusually well the day before her death. About eleven o'clock Friday night, her parents were awakened by hearing her cough, and they went at once to her bedside, but all efforts to revive her were futile, and with her arms clasped about her father's neck, she peacefully passed away.

All during her illness, she had every attention that loving care and thought of fond and indulgent parents could devise. She enjoyed and appreciated her friends and took a great interest in the affairs of her young playmates. Though frail in body, she never seemed happier than when doing a deed of kindness for some of them. Had she lived till the 24 of February, she would have been thirteen years of age, and no girl of this age ever had a greater number of friends. She was of that sweet and winning disposition which made friends with everyone, and was never heard to say an unkind word of anyone. She leaves a father, mother, two brothers and three sisters, besides a large number of relatives to mourn her loss. Funeral services were conducted at the home Sunday morning at ten o'clock by Rev. W. M. Eldridge, after which the remains were laid to rest in the cemetery at Old Paint Lick. A Friend.

AN APPRECIATION
Of The Life Of Mrs. H. S. Gay.

After a short illness of pneumonia, Mrs. Sherman Gay, died at her home near Hyattsville, on February 3, 1918, interment taking place at the Freedom Cemetery last Saturday.

Mrs. Gay was the mother of ten children, seven of whom survive her, namely: Mrs. Grace Caldwell, of Taylor Springs, New Mexico; Mrs. Pearl Williams, wife of Claude Williams; Jno H. Gay; H. S. Gay, Jr., who is in the Aviation Corp of the U. S. Army, now at Memphis, Tenn; McKinley Gay, a successful farmer; Sallie Gay and Gladys Gay, a little girl of ten years. All the children had the privilege of being present at the funeral.

Mrs. Gay has been a sufferer for several years past with a complication of ill, so she fell an easy victim to pneumonia, after seven days illness. Mrs. Gay was married January 16th., twenty-nine years ago to H. S. Gay, son of Jas. M. Gay, of Garrard county. She was converted early in life and united with the Christian church at Asbury, Ky., of which Rev. John G. Fee, founder of Berea College, was pastor. Upon removing to Garrard county she united with Bethel Christian church on Back Creek. Mrs. Gay was the daughter of Joel Todd, Sr., of Asbury, Ky., and sister of the Rev. G. V. Todd. She was fifty years old, Dec. 4th, 1917.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. F. D. Palmer, pastor of the M. E. Church, Lancaster, Ky., at Freedom church, in which cemetery she was buried beside the three children who had preceded her to the Glorv Land. Many beautiful things were said of Mrs. Gay at home and at the funeral. She was a faithful and loving mother, wife and teacher.

Her husband, a prosperous farmer near Lancaster, Ky., is thus sadly bereft in her sudden departure and is left to journey on alone without her wise council and companionship. A wife so economical, thoughtful and devoted, is rarely ever found. Her greatest desire was to live, that she might see her children grown and established in life, which hope was almost realized.

A good woman has fallen, her advice and council can no longer be spoken or given only in loving memories directing and guiding her bereft children and loved ones to that land of un fading flowers, peace and blissful memories. Beyond the shadows of the night there is the hope of the break of a perfect day and may family and friends be safely brought to the Union and unclouded light thereof, is the wish of a loved one.

MRS. DORA MILLER
Named As One Of "Mothers of Regiment"

Mrs. Dora Miller of this city, who has two sons now serving in the United States Army, has just received a communication from the Colonel of the 319th Infantry, Camp Lee, Va., naming her as one of the "Mothers of the Regiment". Her son, Elmer, is a member of this regiment and volunteered his services as soon as war was declared.

The letter which she prizes so highly is as follows:

"Mrs. Dora Miller, Lancaster, Ky. Dear Madam:—

I have the pleasure to inform you that you have been made a member of the "Mothers of the Regiment—319th Infantry", and are cordially invited to meet the other mothers at Soldiers' Memorial Hall, Pittsburgh, Pa., at 2:30 P. M., Sunday afternoon, February 10th. I trust that I shall then have the opportunity of meeting you personally, and also the other relatives and friends of your son.

To strengthen esprit de corps, and thus shorten the war through the superior efficiency of our arms, the members of the 319th Infantry are sincerely striving to keep the bonds between home and camp as strong as home ties in time of peace. The gathering of mothers, with the other home folk, is for this purpose.

It is the desire of the officers and men of this regiment that their parents should know one another, that there should be a comradeship of mothers collateral to the comradeship of the sons.

Cordially and Sincerely,
Frank S. Cohen, Colonel,
319th Infantry Commanding."

Her other son, James Hugh Miller, is with the 176 Infantry Brigade Headquarters, Camp Dodge, Iowa, and has been in service for three years, being on the Mexican border for six months, during the famous raid for Villa.

YOU COOK YOUR FOOD—WHY NOT YOUR TOBACCO?

YOU know what broiling does to steak, baking to a potato—and toasting to bread. In each case flavor is brought out by cooking—by "toasting."

So you can imagine how toasting improves the flavor of the Burley tobacco used in the Lucky Strike Cigarette.
